Physical and Environmental Science Bulletin (PESB) is a multidisciplinary peer- reviewed Journal with reputed academic experts as members of Advisory Board and Editorial Board. PESB is a journal that publishes rigorous theoretical reasoning and advanced empirical research in all areas of Science subjects. We welcome articles or proposals from all perspectives and on all subjects pertaining to basic and applied aspects of Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics, Life Sciences, Environmental Sciences, Medical Sciences, Behavioral Sciences, Engineering, Geology, Marine Science, Computer Science, Toxicology etc. PSEB is designed for the prompt publication of peer- reviewed articles in all areas of the subjects. Three types of articles may be submitted (a) Regular articles (b) Short Communication (c) Review Articles.

Instructions for Authors

General: Physical and Environmental Science Bulletin covers all areas of basic and applied aspects of Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics, Life Sciences, Environmental Sciences, Medical Sciences, Behavioral Sciences, Engineering, Geology, Marine Science, Computer Science, Toxicology etc. It also welcomes the submission of manuscript that meet general criteria of significance and scientific excellence but a contribution must have one of these subjects as its focus and be of relevant interest to scientists for acceptability. Both original research papers and review articles on current topics are bi-annually published. Book reviews are usually solicited, but suggestions of book for review are welcome. All contributions undergo an editorial scanning and a peer- review.

Submission: Submitted manuscripts must not have been published previously nor they should have been under considerations for publications. Further, submission to PESB will be deemed to imply that the manuscript will not be submitted elsewhere if accepted. All submissions should be mailed either to the Editor or to the Consulting Editor, or both. Electronic submission of manuscript is strongly encouraged, provided that the text, tables, and figures, are included in a single Microsoft word file(preferably in Aerial , font size 12). All portions of the submission should be typed double- spaced on one side of white A4 paper with ample margins on all sides. The corresponding authors should give the complete mailing address, telephone number, mobile number and e- mail address. Submit manuscript as E- mail attachment to the PESB at mailpesb@gmail.com, k.dhirendra17@gmail, premkupasad@gmail.com. An acknowledgment mail will be mailed to the corresponding author within 3 days of receipt. Decision of the PESB is final in the matter of acceptability for publications. The corresponding author is responsible for ensuring that the article's publication has been approved by all the co-authors.

Review Process: All manuscripts are reviewed by minimum of two (2) external reviewers, members of the Advisory Board, Editorial Board. The author may also suggest a minimum of two reviewers for the manuscript (PESB reserve the right to designate other reviewers). Decision will be made as rapidly as possible, and the journal strives to return at least two (2) reviewers' assessment to authors' within two months of authors' submission. The PESB Board will re- review (for publications/ approval) manuscripts that are pending revisions by the author. It is the goal of the PESB to publish manuscript after submission as early as possible if accepted by the PESB board.

Title: The Title should be brief but interesting and comprehensive to a non- specialist reader, and contain word useful for indexing. This page must also include full names of all the authors' and affiliations (Institutional addresses), the name of the corresponding authors should be asterisk (*) and the corresponding authors phone, mobile, fax, and E- mail information should be provided. The journal encourages authors to have their e- mail addresses printed.

Abstract: The abstract, not exceeding 200 words should convey the essence of the contribution even to a non specialist reader. For an original research paper, the abstract should include a few sentences of background to the work, the rationale, and the main results and conclusions. Abbreviations are discouraged.

Keywords: A minimum of five (5) keywords that will provide indexing to the references should be stated.

Main Text: This should be divided into sections with first- level headings (centered to Colum) such as Introduction, Materials and Methods, Results and Discussion. These may also be descriptive headings; such as sub-sections with short, descriptive headings.

Conventions: Authors should follow Internationally accepted conventions in regard to units, symbols, and aberrations. SI units of measurements and standard aberrations only should be used. Authors are urged to take great care in distinguishing between genotype and phenotype clearly in all sections of the manuscript, including tables and illustrations.

Table & Illustrations: All tables should be numbered, serially in Arabic numerals in order of appearance. All figures should be numbered in Arabic numbers in order of appearances. Authors should take responsibility for neat and correct arrangements of multipart figures. Photographs should be sharp, high contrast, glossy prints, any labeling (such as arrows or letter symbols) should be clear and applied with a fine pen. Colour photographs can be accepted only when absolutely necessary. DNA, RNA and protein sequence will be treated as figures, and the instructions for line drawings would apply.

References: Citations should be made in the text by the name and year, not number, in chronological order and then alphabetically for the same year, and enclosed in parentheses. When there are two authors, the citation should include both names. When there are three or more authors, the citations should have only the first author and et al. Two or more citations are separated by a semicolon. References should be listed in alphabetical order of authors. Unpublished observations and personal communication should not be included in the list of reference, but should be cited within parentheses in the appropriate place in the text with the full names of the sources. The list of references may include papers accepted, but yet not published, such references should include the name of the journal and "in press" in parentheses at the end. Abstracts should not be used as references. Authors are fully responsible for the accuracy of the references.

Acknowledgements: These should follow immediately after the end of the main text. In references to granting agencies,, the name should be written out fully.

Proofs: Authors are requested to prepare their manuscripts carefully and in accordance with these instructions in order to avoid delays and to minimize corrections and alterations in copyediting. The corresponding author will receive proof (e- mail attachment). Page proofs are considered to be the final versions of the manuscripts. Corrected proofs should be returned to the Office within a few days of receipts preferably by e-mails. Alterations of more than a minor nature can be/cannot be accepted at this stage. No further proofs will be sent.

Reprints: Twenty reprints will be supplied to the corresponding author free of charge.

Copyrights: Physical and Environmental Science Bulletin, publishers of this journal, will acquire a copyright over all the published articles. In case of submission and the consequent acceptance of the manuscript for publication, the authors would readily agree to automatic transfer of the copyright to the publisher.
